

REDMEN TO STAGE BIG HOME TALENT SHOW IN OCTOBER

Contract Is Signed By Local Lodge With Producing Company, for Presentation of Big Home Talent Musical Comedy.

At the regular meeting of Wyandotte Tribe of Red Men held Tuesday evening that order signed a contract with one of the biggest home talent producing companies in the land for the presentation here on October 18th of a big musical comedy show entitled "Microbes of Love."

The lodge has appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. James Frost, Lee Dreese and William Martin to make all necessary arrangements for the producing of the play and work will be started at once to lay plans for one of the biggest and best shows ever attempted by the Red Men. This order has given many high class home talent shows and when they get out to outdo anything they have done in the past, they have quite a big job on their hands.

An expert director will be in Maysville within a few weeks and start the rehearsals of the various parts. The committee hopes to be enabled to get the best local talent interested and nothing will be spared to make the show a great one in every respect.

The show being a musical comedy means that there will be a very large cast of characters and more than one hundred will probably be in the entire cast.

BERLIN WILL SIGN PEACE PACT THIS AFTERNOON

Cabinet Gives Final Decision and U. S. Commissioner Will Approve Document Bringing Actual Peace.

Berlin, August 24.—The peace treaty between the United States and Germany will be signed today.

The Cabinet gave the document final consideration at a special session early Tuesday evening, which was attended by President Friedrich Ebert.

The document will be signed by E. L. Loring Dreese, United States Commissioner, and Dr. Friedrich Rosen, the German Foreign Minister, who has been empowered by Herr Ebert, according to the German Constitution, to affix his signature in behalf of the German Republic. Mr. Dreese has received full credentials from the Washington Government for signing.

Beyond the statement that the treaty formally provides for restoration of friendly and an immediate resumption of diplomatic and consular intercourse between the United States and Germany, no information was obtainable regarding contents of the instrument.

It was intimated, however, that there are no provisions included in the treaty for the precise treatment of financial, commercial and economic issues, which still are in abeyance. It is said that these will be made the subject of future negotiations.

Signing of the treaty will follow rejection by the United States Senate of the Treaty of Versailles and passage of the Knox-Porter peace resolution by Congress.

The resolution was drawn in the Senate by Senator Philander C. Knox, Pennsylvania, and in the House by Stephen C. Porter, Pennsylvania. Actual warfare ended November 11, 1918.

MORRISON CAUGHT WHILE DRUNK AT A DANCE IN ROWAN

Deputy Sheriff Jackson Slips Up On Prisoner, Who Says He Would Not Be Arrested But For Booze.

The Fleming Gazette tells the following story of the capture of Arthur Morrison:

Arthur Morrison, wanted to answer the charge of murder for the killing of Wm. Collins and to fifteen warrants charging him with violating the liquor laws, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff H. L. Jackson and lodged in jail here Thursday night about 1 o'clock. For a long time Morrison, reputed to be all round bad man, had been at large though several attempts had been made to get him, and his arrest will be viewed with satisfaction by the law abiding element of the county.

Thursday the officer learned that there was to be a dance at a house in the edge of Rowan county and suspecting that Morrison would be there quietly secured an auto and with a driver went to the house in Rowan in a buggy by himself and waited until the dance was over, which was after 11 o'clock when several drunks were in evidence, Morrison among them. While Morrison was lying on a bed and his brother was standing in the door, Mr. Jackson ran in and compelled the brother to stand aside while he grabbed Arthur and placed the handcuffs on him. Morrison had on his pistol holster, but the weapon was not in it when he was captured.

In jail Friday morning Morrison attributed his fate to being drunk and said the first he knew of being under arrest was when he awakened and found himself riding in an auto toward town. He thinks he would yet be eluding the officers if some one had not tipped him off, he says, to the officers. Anyhow, Officer Jackson did a good job in making the arrest.

Morrison was brought to Muses in the buggy and there was placed in the machine and brought here. He made no resistance further than to make threats against Mr. Jackson, to which the officer paid no attention.

A reward of $500 was outstanding for the arrest and conviction of Morrison.

Mrs. J. E. Browning left Wednesday morning for Concord to visit her sister-in-law, Mrs. Nan Ross, after a visit with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. G. C. Browning.

GIGANTIC SCHEME OF FRAUD IS UNCOVERED BY U. S.

Federal Agents Uncover Scheme in Which Millions of Dollars in Worthless Paper Is Floated.

Chicago, August 24.—Millions of dollars of worthless notes, stolen bonds, fraudulent deeds of trust and forged certificates of deposit have been flung on the markets of the country, Federal agents declared today after investigating operations of a band alleged to have been headed by Charles W. French and John B. Worthington.

Banks, bond houses, investment security brokers and wealthy business men from coast to coast were declared to have been the victims or dupes of one of the most gigantic swindles ever unearthed by Federal agents.

Six million dollars' worth of stolen bonds, nearly $3,000,000 in worthless notes and hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of trust deeds and forged certificates of deposit have been traced by department of Justice agents, it was declared.

The revelations resulted from a confession accredited to Alva W. Harshman, who was declared to have been a private secretary to French and who surrendered today. He was alleged to have told of a deal negotiated by French for the purchase of a bank in the Middle West that involved the exchange of $800,000.

A Washington man, according to Harshman, was to obtain certified checks for $500,000 there. These checks, he said, were to be presented to the bank owners and, when the bank gained control of the establishment, they were to cash all certificates of deposit the bank owned.

The money, he said, then would be forwarded to the Washington man, who would deposit it before the certified checks on the original transaction were cleared and returned. Many other similar deals were also described.

The violins, the cornets, the trombones, the flutes, the clarinets, and drums, all seem to burst into one harmonious note in their very last effort to emphasize the score of the opera. And the singers: the tenors, the sopranos, the altos, the barytones, and the bass, each one straining every muscle to make the closing notes, the sweetest and most melodious, as the curtain descends.
